

energy measures

fact file

3

Boilers & Boiler Controls

Efficient management of boilers and boiler controls

If your boiler is functioning poorly, it may be responsible for as much as 70% of fuel consumption (excluding electricity) in your hotel. Effective management of boilers and boiler controls is a key issue, which is relevant to all businesses - even those that have already implemented effective energy management programmes.

The fact file will help you to ensure that your boiler is operating as efficiently as possible by providing guidance on:

- gaining immediate savings by making more efficient use of your existing boiler;
- asking your boiler engineer to check and modify boiler controls to ensure they meet relevant settings for your property;
- calculating the cost and energy savings you could achieve from specific programmes.