

energy measures

fact file

Small Businesses

Small Businesses

If your business is very small, lacks the support of a dedicated engineer and yet still wants to benefit from energy efficiency improvements, you may benefit from receiving our small business fact file. This provides a simple list of all the measures that you can integrate into your day-to-day business procedures to make immediate savings. It also provides information about some of the small investments you can make to reduce operating costs.