Training Pack for Pubs

Training Pack for Pubs

The lights always on, refrigeration units are too cold, the cellar door is propped open and energy costs are escalating. If this describes the situation in your pub, you need our new training pack for pubs. The pack contains posters and specific training information for each of the key energy consuming areas of the pub (kitchens, behind the bar, cellars and staff accommodation units) and can be used wither in a formal training session, or simply laminated and placed in key areas to reinforce energy efficiency messages.
